117 With F.M.L.

We are pleased to note this newspaper is among 17 in Texas carrying American Issues Forum material during the Bicentennial.

A second series of articles, written by national experts in fields ranging from government to psychology, will begin in May, following completion of the current series on the origins and status of American government.

The essense of citizenship, of this country, of this state, of this community, of this world, is a willingness to find similarities, a common ground not from two opposite points but at a third point, attained by the exchanged and evaluation of ideas.

When the third point is established, a plane, a balance, is established.

This is not some theoretic. It works every day. And readership of these American Forum series ranges from about a quarter of Herald circulation to about 60 percent in some newspapers across the country.

Dailies in the four major Texas cities are carrying these series, related to college credit courses available through college extension services. The Herald is one of only three non-dailies-semi-weeklies in El Campo and Arlington also carry it-- publishing the series produced by the University of California--San Diego.

Seventeen Texas newspapers are participating. We hope the continuing series on the pluses and minuses of this country at its 200th juncture puts the Bicentennial in a proper, readable and memorable perspective.

The features appear each Monday on the editorial page.

One of the interesting aspects of Texas history is that most of its early history dates from and founders were from anywhere but Texas. So this enormous state's ties to the Midwest and South are profound.

Sam Houston was from Tennessee. And the second president of the Texas Republic, Mirabeau Lamar, was from Georgia. Stephen F. Austin's father was from Missouri.

While Houston was a noted general, Lamar was an educated man and even organized a poetry society. He fought as a general in the revolution, but later was cited as the "father of education" in this state.

It is fascinating that the second man to head the Texas Republic was so emphatic about education. A quotation attributed to Lamar is in the frontice piece of the dedicatory volume of Cameron Public Library. It reads:

"It is admitted by all that the cultivated mind is the guardian genius of Democracy; and while guided and controlled by virtue, is the noblest attribute of man. It is the only dictator free men acknowledge and the only security free men desire."

Museum Expert To Meet With Commissioners

A state museum consultant will meet with Milam County commissioners after their regular meeting at 10 a.m. Thursday, according to County Judge O. B. Harden.

He announced the visit at Monday's commissioners meeting and said he has asked members of the county historical survey committee to meet with the consultant, who will offer an opinion on whether the old county jail may house a county museum.

In other business, commissioners canvassed the county school elections and discussed changes in some voting places. An approved list willl be publicized before the May 1 Democratic Primary.

Also coming in for discussion was a proposed storage room to be built on the new jail property, with laundry facilities and storage for mowers, tools, and gasoline. Commissioners will view such a building in Robertson County this week.

Commissioners voted to let the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department have the use of the radio transceiver left behind when the sheriff moved from the courthouse and received new radio equipment. Tommy Chamberlain, member of the fire department, said the set could be used between fire units and the base, and firemen could call for help if needed.

A moisture problem in the courthouse basement came in for discussion with solution being the digging out of dirt from the wall for application of a seal coat.

Good Friday Service Set

The Cameron Area Ministerial Association will be conducting a community-wide Good Friday Service on Friday, April 16, beginning at 12:30 p.m. The service will be held at the First Christian Church, 411 W. Main in Cameron. Ministerial Association President Darryl Proffit has requested that all businesses close for one hour Friday from 12:30 to 1:30 to allow employees and patrons to attend the service.

Shell Oil Sets Open Meeting

FLAGS FOR SCHOOLS--Cong. W. R. (Bob) Poage of the 11th Texas District is shown with the United States flags to be given each of the 68 high schools in his district that indicated their need of a flag. The flags will be sent to the Capitol where each flag will be flown over the U. S. Capitol Building before being sent to the schools.

Public Invited To Hear Impact Of Lignite Mines

Tuesday, April 20, Shell Oil Co. officials will meet with the public at 9:30 a.m. at Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron and will discuss their plans for lignite mining in Milam County.

The public is invited to come and hear the officials' presentation on the socio-economic effect on Cameron and the county of their proposed strip mining of lignite.

Coffee and donuts will be served and there will be a question and answer period after the presentation.

This will be the second time for Shell officials to visit Cameron. In November last year Keith Doig, Shell's vice president of mining ventures, spoke before a gathering of local businessmen, county and city officials and Rotary Club members.

At that time Doig said the county's deposit of lignite contains from 150 to 200 million tons and he expected the actual mining to start within the next four to five years.

Also at that time the Shell official said the company had 22,000 acres leased in the county but by now that figure has increased with more land leased just about every week.

Core drilling has been done by Shell crews to determine exact location of the deposits and an aerial survey has also been made this year. Next comes a topographic map to define how much surface has to be removed to get at the lignite.

Environmental studies are following, with the studies to be continued during actual mining.

Wildlife and plant inventories and a survey of cash crop yields will be made for the reclamation process, which will be a continuing project.

Freak Traffic Mishap Injures Men

Two Rockdale area men are being treated in a Temple hospital and a third suffered chest injuries in a freak traffic accident near Rockdale Friday night.

Other accidents reported include a mishap that nearly turned into a free-for-all in Cameron Friday afternoon and a near headon collision on the Little River bridge Sunday night.

Still another accident involving cows left a driver with minor injuries but a heavily damaged car Sunday night.

Henry Stevens and Rusty Wilhite, both of the Rockdale area, had pulled their pickup off the Bushdale Road north of Rockdale, and were sitting in lawn chairs beside the truck listening to their hunting dogs run on Friday night.

A pickup driven by William Brown of Rt. 3, Cameron was attempting to pass another vehicle on the road and slammed into the parked pickup and the two men in chairs.

All three were taken to Richards Hospital in Rockdale and Stevens and Wilhite were transferred to Scott and White Hospital in Temple where they were in undetermined condition.

DPS Trooper Jerry Benson investigated the accident.

In Cameron Friday afternoon a car driven by Jerry Riggins of Cameron went out of control on First St. after making a U-turn at the intersection of Crockett and First. The Riggins vehicle then struck a parked car in the 200 block of West First.

When Police Sgt. Bill Sparks and Police Chief Kent Butler arrived to investigate, they arrested Jerry, who resisted being placed in the police car. His brother, Howard Riggins, passenger in the car, was also taken to jail for being drunk. Jerry was charged with DWI and assault.

Cathy Johnson, a bystander in the crowd that had collected at the scene, was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. Johnson was reportedly yelling obscenities at the police and other bystanders, according to Chief Butler.

When police attempted to put Jerry in a jail cell, he again resisted officers and Butler's hand was cut in the scuffle.

Sunday night, shortly after 11 p.m. a two-car accident on Little River bridge resulted in slight injuries to one of seven passengers in a station wagon that was struck by a car driven by Robert Taylor, 20, of Cameron.

Investigating patrolman Benson said the Taylor car apparently crossed the center stripe on the bridge and struck the station wagon, driven by Franklin Felder of Waco, nearly headon.

Taylor and his passenger, Kenneth Teal of Cameron, both left the scene on foot and were later arrested. Taylor was charged with DWI and Teal with public drunkenness and both were placed in the county jail.

Sunday night around 9 a car driven by Ralph Devine of College Station hit three cows near the Brazos River bridge on FM 485 east of Maysfield. One cow was killed and the car was heavily damaged. Devine and a passenger were injured slightly by flying glass.

Faulty Wiring Causes 2 Fires

Two separate fires over the weekend were blamed on faulty wiring in attics as firemen answered four calls.

Saturday afternoon one house at 902 N. Emancipation was damaged by fire that apparently started in the attic. The home belonged to Emanuel Thomas. Then just after 8 Saturday night firemen extinguished another blaze in an attic at the Lee Young home at the end of 12 Street. Again damage was mainly from water and smoke.

A tractor on fire at Maysfield was reported around 6 Saturday. Then on Sunday around 1 p.m. a dryer caught on fire at Brown's Laundry.

Gause Competes In Improvement Judging Tour

The Gause community has been selected to be judged in the District 10 Community Improvement Judging Tour and will be competing against four other communities selected in the district. The selection was based on recordbook submitted to the district office for judging.

The community will be visited and judged on Wednesday, April 28 at 2 p.m. The judging tour will start at the Gause Community Center.

District judges are James Alford, County Extension Agent from Limestone County; Larry Allen, County Extension Agent from Falls County; and Mrs. Cheryl Walker, County Extension Agent from Fayette County.

Other communities included in the district judging tour are New Berlin community in Guadalupe County; Littig community in Travis County; and the Coupland and Schwertner communities in Williamson County.

Schools To Dismiss Early

Cameron schools will dismiss early Thursday afternoon for the Easter holidays. Buses will run at 2:45 p.m.

Board Elects Slate Of Officers

Cameron school board officers were re-elected unanimously at a Monday night meeting following canvass of school trustee elections. Calvin Cobb remains president; Betsy Brown, vice president; and Bill Hornung, secretary.

Board members publicly commended students who won honors for the schools, including at the science fair, regional science fair, UIL contests, history fair and vocational agriculture competition. Trustees said the students' efforts and accomplishments brought honors to the Cameron school system.

Board approved a new school calendar and discussed possible tax exemptions, along with changing tax valuations from 50 percent to 100 percent of valuation.

By law, disabled veterans are granted a tax exemption, according to Theo Aschenbeck, school tax assessor-collector. However, if the board approved a $3,000 homestead exemption for those taxpayers 65 years old and older, Aschenbeck said this would affect about 25 percent of the people on the school tax rolls.

He added that changing the valuation would not be popular with industries in the district. No action was taken on the exemptions or changing valuations.

In other business, trustees heard a letter from Texans for Equitable Taxation, asking the district to join the organization. Purpose of the group is to study school financing. This item was tabled.

Board agreed that the school will pay fees for trustees attending a school board workshop at Texas A&M April 26. New board member Lee Roy Doskocil, Supt. Buddy Dulin, and Cobb plan to attend.

Forrest Sapp suggested having an open house so the public can view improvements in the high school gym and the remodeled classrooms and science labs.

Sapp also noted that the school's bonds will be paid up by 1981 and said the board should think about another bond issue to finance improvements to the school plant.

Resignations were accepted from Terry O'Hara and Thomas Dusek. Board voted to hire Martha Whalen as a teacher this fall. She is a former Cameron teacher who was on a leave of absence.

An estimated cost of about $8,000 was discussed for interior finishing of the high school band hall and carpeting the floor. This work will be done during the summer months.

Supt. Dulin told trustees that the old Carey lumber company building and lot could be purchased for $24,000, but necessary repairs would add another $5,000. A committee of Sapp and Hornung was appointed to study the possibility of using the property for a school bus barn and repair shop.

Board went into executive esssion to discuss contracts and salaries.

Back in regular session, trustees heard Aschenbeck ask for a contract and a salary increase of $200 a month. He said he recommends that his salary ought to be $15,000 a year. Dulin told him this matter is being studied and was discussed in the executive session.

Meeting date for the next regular session was set on May 13 so it will not conflict with the all-sports banquet.

Rogers Club Holds Banquet

ROGERS

Scott Brookshire, senior vice president of the First Federal Savings Association in Temple, kept the audience with him as he discoursed the subject "money" in a humorous vein. He was speaking to the Rogers Community Service Club at the civic center, at the Club's annual banquet Saturday night.

Wray Durnal, postmaster, installed officers for 1976-77. They include: Brunie F. Harbour, president; Mrs. Margaret Ward, first vice president; Dr. H. A. Schubert, second vice president; Doyle Ray, third vice president; Mrs. Billie Farrell, secretary; Miss Valera Williams, treasurer.

Directors are Malvin Cobb, Monroe Spinn, Frank Tucker, Mrs. Betty Wendler, and Clayton Clowers, ex-officio.

For Youth AND Experience....

The Cameron Herald favors the young, yet experienced and qualified candidates in two Milam County primary races May 1:

We favor Leroy Broadus, 41, former patrolman with Texas Department of Public Safety on duty a dozen years in Cameron, over the incumbent sheriff, who is 77.

We favor John B. Henderson Jr., 42, former Milam County district attorney for nine years, over the incumbent.

We recommend a strong vote of confidence for Don G. Humble of Cameron, for district judge in the Democratic Primary, though his candidacy is unopposed. He is 48, a former county judge and now practicing attorney, who by nomination in the primary and election in November, will succeed the incumbent, who has confirmed earlier plans to retire at the end of this term.

It is your Herald's opinion these three candidates are qualified by training, experience, and relative youth to serve the modern needs of civil and criminal justice in Milam County and the 20th Texas Judicial District.

The crime rate in 1975 increased more than 29 percent in rural areas of Texas outside metropolitan areas. Your attention is invited to a story on crime increase in "Dateline Austin" this page.

Rural law and order are complicated by this spread of crime from cities to suburbs to countryside. Upon reviewing the professional records of these three men, it is our opinion that modern law and order will best be served by their election and confirmation.

The strength and vigor of younger men will serve notice to the Milam public and potential offenders that this county and area will increase modern efforts to check the cancer of crime.

We favor Broadus for county sheriff.

We favor Henderson for county-district attorney.

We urge a sound vote for Humble though he is unopposed.

Modern Milam County....

Driving by the new Milam tax building, lighted parking area and new jail impresses anyone that county-seat Cameron is modern.

Even now, locals and consultants interested in converting the old Milam Jail into a county museum are studying alternatives to means and content.

The courthouse square in Cameron then is an area Milam Countians can be proud of, can appreciate for its convenience to people needing the services of the numerous offices within the four-building complex.

We congratulate the county commissioners court for bringing county facilities into modern compatability with the new downtown Cameron and other major improvements in Milam County.

This is a sign that modern government is evolving in the 1970s in Milam County.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

EXPLODES "FOOD AS A WEAPON" MYTH

Senator Dick Clark (Iowa) ". . .Food and agriculture technology are uniquely being "weapons" in the sense that they can be used to improve the lot of the people of the world, but they really are not effective in forcing others to bend to our will, Lauren Soth, former editor of the Des Moines Register, has said this much better than I can in an article which appeared in the Register. There being no objection, the article was ordered to be printed in the Record." (Excerpts follow):

Using Food as Weapon Seen As Negative Yield
(By Lauren Soth)

President Ford and Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz have talked about America's "agripower," implying that the United States could unleash a "food weapon" to make the Soviet Union and the Third World behave. In one of his less thoughtful moments, Butz said agripower was stronger than "petropower." He claimed the Russians did not block the Egypt-Isreal agreement on the Sinai because "they needed millions of tons of U.S. grain and knew it was no time to be fooling around."

Recently, Ford and Butz have dropped that line. The uproar from farmers about the embargo on grain sales to Russia from July 24 to Oct. 20 last year made them think twice about food as a political weapon.

Ronald Reagan also seems to have backed away from his statement last December that the United States should deny grain to the Soviet Union until it stops meddling in Africa and "chooses real detente and abandons its buildup of offensive weapons." But Senator Jackson has taken up the cry.

If Henry Jackson thinks he can push the Russians into reducing arms output by denying them grain, he is kidding himself. In the first place they could get a little more grain from Australia, France, and elsewhere. In the second place, they could cut back livestock if they had to. In the third place, Russia is likely to have more of its own grain in four out of five years in the future.

As for our own exportable grain supplies, they ought to be available freely--so long as they are not controlled by monopolies to their own advantage.

That kind of agripower and sensible farm policy we need--not rash concepts of a "food weapon."

**********

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

The political effect of the U. S. denying people food in the case of real hunger would be disastrous. It would be a godsend to the Communists.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I have been thinking some more about the Presidential Primaries. For example, one candidate has raised about seven million dollars for his campaign and is running low on funds now; another raised five million and is about out of money; another raised three million and is now $100,000 in debt; and some others who raised a measly million or some have now closed up and gone home.

Understand, all that money is just to try for the nomination. After that comes the election, requiring many millions more.

Now despite all this outlay, all this flying around the country shaking hands, all the advertising costs on TV, and in the newspapers, only a small percentage of the people are voting in the primaries. If 25 percent vote, that's considered a good turn-out. Sometimes the percentage is only 20, sometimes less.

And this is true also in other elections; in city elections, state election, etc. Why, you can beat nearly any school bond election if you can get as many as 30 percent of the people to vote.

I've been thinking about this. If 20 percent of the people can decide who's going to be the nominee of their party, why not narrow it down even more? Why should the candidates spend millions of dollars on such a small minority, when Dr. Gallup can take $25,000, poll 1500 people, and tell you who's going to win?

Now who these 1500 people are nobody knows. Nobody has even talked to anybody who has ever been polled by Dr. Gallup, and I think I know the reason why. Judging by some of the people they said was going to win and who did, you can see why they wouldn't want their names associated with it.

This is off the subject, but have you noticed that there never has been a news flash on TV, whether it's about a tornado warning, an earthquake, or an election result, important enough to show up during a commercial?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Texas Sees 29% Rural Crime Increase

Crime continued to rise in Texas during the last year.

The Department of Public Safety reported a dramatic leap of 14.7 per cent over the previous year. The count: 654,760 major criminal offenses during 1975, compared with 570,640 the year before.

Largest increase was in heavily populated rural areas near major cities, where crimes were up 29.4 per cent.

By contrast, the smallest increase was in most-sparsely-settled rural areas, where the rate change was only 4.2 per cent.

Col. Wilson E. Speir, DPS director, said Texas law enforcement officers continued to improve their crime clearance rates, reporting overall clearances of 25 percent compared with 23 per cent in 1974.

Most major crimes were committed in urban areas, but the rate of increase there — 14.6 per cent — was less than that for tne rural territory.

Murder and homicide rates increased 2.8 per cent, rape 2.1 per cent, burglary 13 per cent, theft 20.2 per cent and auto theft 2.6 per cent.

Election Draws Interest

Large crowds greeted presidential candidates in first major Texas campaigning prior to the May 1 preference primary.

President Ford stumped in San Antonio, Dallas, El Paso and Amarillo last weekend. His Republican challenger, Ronald Reagan, preceded him in Dallas, Abilene, Lubbock, Wichita Falls and Longview. Reagan also returned this week to San Antonio, Harlingen, Corpus Christi, Austin, Houston, Fort Worth, Midland, Odessa, Amarillo and El Paso.

Democratic contenders will be moving in next week.

Bids High

Oil producers bid a total of $9.37 million for rights to lease state school lands in a recent sale and set a recent-year high of $75.63 an acre.

A sale last October yielded only $39.03 an acre.

The sale also brought a near-record-high bid of more than $1.6 million from Corpus Christi Leaseholds Inc. for an offshore Matagorda County tract.

It reportedly reflected renewed interest in offshare development.

Meeting Set

A legislative ad hoc committee on utility regulation will conduct a meeting of interested persons and groups here April 22 to consider suggestions for cutting gas and electric costs.

Lawmakers said they will poll every legislator to see if a consensus can be arrived at on legislative proposals for a possible special session.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court turned down the state's effort to collect $262.5 million from Superior Oil Company for oil and gas produced in San Patricio County on land involved in an ownership challenge.

In another case, the high court held persons charged with crimes cannot be committed to mental institutions without jury trials in civil proceedings.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the conviction of a Houston-area massage parlor operator on charges of promoting prostitution.

Third Court of Civil Appeals concluded a wife of a serviceman who is divorcing him is not entitled to a part of retirement benefits he is still working toward.

New Rules Set

Texas Public Utility Commission's new proposed regulations would require users of lots of electricity to pay more.

Home consumers would benefit, but only those in rural areas will be under direct P.U.C. control starting next September.

Rules will not be adopted until after public hearings.

One of the regulations would require that electric utilities uniformly bill fuel costs to their customers by kilowat hours of consumption, no matter how much is used. Big consumers now get lower rates. Utilities could still base rates in part on lower cost of serving industrial consumers.

Rules would allow more time for paying bills and smaller penalties in event of late payments.

Vets Bonds Sold

Thirty-five million dollars worth of veterans land bonds have been sold

Q: I may have to move before my lease expires. Can my landlord sue me for the remainder of the rent due under the lease?

A: Yes, the landlord can sue and recover a judgment against you for unpaid rent and, if the lease so provides, for recovery of attorneys' fees. If you move prior to the end of your lease and the landlord relets the apartment, the amount of any court judgment against you must be reduced by whatever rent the landlord collects.

Q: I am applying for a mortgage to buy a home. Am I required to purchase homeowners insurance?

A: You will be required by your mortgage company to maintain certain minimum coverages on the property to protect the mortgage company's interest in the property. Although the mortgage company may require certain financial standards of the company from which you purchase insurance, the mortgage company cannot require that you purchase the insurance from a certain agent or a certain company; nor may the mortgage company require that you purchase homeowners insurance. The mortgage company, however, may require fire and extended coverage insurance on the property.

Q: If I buy a new mobile home, am I entitled to receive a warranty from the seller?

A: Yes. A new state law requires that new mobile homes and all appliances in the home must be covered by a one-year warranty delivered to you in writing by the seller at the time you sign the contract of sale. The warranty also requires the seller to correct any defects within a reasonable time after notification by you. If you have a consumer complaint concerning mobile homes or their warranties, you may contact the Labor Division of the Texas Attorney General's Office, P.O. Box 12548, Austin, 78711.

Q: If my savings account has a survivorship clause naming my wife as the beneficiary, does the savings account need to be included in our wills?

A: If the savings account provides a valid right of survivorship, the funds pass directly to the surviving spouse regardless of the language of the will. However, there are several factors which determine whether a right of survivorship is valid. These factors include such questions as whether the savings account is in a bank or a savings and loan association, and whether the savings account deposits are community property.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

"How do rising fuel prices affect my electric bill?"

Texas Power & Light generating plants require enormous quantities of natural gas, lignite coal and, when deliveries of gas are curtailed, fuel oil, to produce electricity.

In 1975, TP&L's fuel costs were $147 million, more than five and a half times greater than in 1970. In 1970, only 15 cents of each dollar paid to TP&L by its customers was used to purchase fuel. In 1975, fuel required 37 cents of each revenue dollar.

Unlike most businesses, TP&L cannot automatically raise the basic price of electricity as the costs of producing it go up. TP&L's rates are established and altered only by resolution or ordinance of city councils. For this reason, TP&L, and almost every electric company in the nation, has a fuel adjustment provision in its rates.

When TP&L's fuel costs exceed 70 cents per million BTU's (the equivalent of 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas), the adjustment provision permits us to pass on to our customers the additional cost. TP&L makes no profit on the fuel it purchases.

"What is TP&L doing to offset rising fuel prices?"

To offset the rising prices of natural gas and fuel oil, TP&L and two other electric companies are constructing large generating units which use relatively low cost lignite coal as fuel. Two such units have been in operation since 1972, a third unit was placed in service in 1974 and a fourth in 1975. Five other lignite-fueled units are now under construction and still more are being planned.

For almost sixty-four years, Texas Power & Light has supplied dependable electric service at a fair price. We're working to keep it that way.

The District 10 4-H Dairy Judging contest was held Saturday, April 3 at the Texas A&M Dairy Center in College Station.

The junior and senior teams were named number one and the senior team will be going to State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M on June 1-3.

The members of the senior team included Gery Hollas, Gerry Mitchan, Peter Riola, Donnie Marek, all of Cameron; and Leroy Stephens of Rockdale.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

Two Forward, Two Backward . . . A Lamb By Its Own Name . . . Red Meat Production Up More Than A Fourth.

There's good news and bad news for agriculture producers in the latest report on crop and livestock prices. The good news is that crop prices showed some advance during the past month, and the bad news is that livestock prices showed a decline.

Putting it in percentage points, crop prices are up 2 per cent; livestock prices are down 2 per cent.

Grain prices, including wheat, corn, oats, barley and sorghum, showed some increase during March as compared with a month earlier. But only one of the grains, oats, is above parity. Wheat averaged $3.68 per bushel, up 2 cents from a month ago; oats averaged $1.74 compared to parity of $1.60. Sorghum averaged $4.23, up a dime from a month ago but still $1.25 below parity.

Cotton averaged 47.8 cents per pound during March in the state. This is 4.7 cents above a month ago, but still almost 30 cents per pound below parity.

In the livestock price picture, hogs averaged $43.30, down $1.60 from a month ago. Beef cattle averaged $31.70, down a dollar. Calf prices, however, are up $1.40 from a month ago averaging $33.20 (but still 50 per cent below parity). Sheep are above parity averaging $19.40 with the parity ratio set at $16.40. Lambs averaged $54.20; this value is almost $8 above a month ago.

Overall, farm parity dipped another two points. As of the middle of March it stood at 70; a year ago at this time it was 69; a month ago it was 72.

LAMB WILL BE IDENTIFIED as such to distinguish it from yearling mutton and mutton.

All this goes into effect May 2 under the federal grading program. On all federally graded lamb carcasses and wholesale cuts, the word "Lamb" will appear intermittently between the shield-shaped U.S. Department of Agriculture grade marks.

The change is being made as a result of producer requests to identify lamb better and thus facilitate its marketing. Lamb is becoming more popular among consumers. This fact, coupled with better markets for wool and mohair, is giving the sheep and goat industry its best profit prospects in many years.

RED MEAT PRODUCTION in Texas shows a 28 per cent increase from a month ago, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.

Red meat production during the first two months of the year in Texas totaled 583 million pounds; this amount compares with 458 million pounds a year ago.

Slaughter of cattle totaled 472,000 head during February, 102,000 higher than a year ago and 47,000 lower than the previous month. The calf kill was 41,500 head, which is 8,000 more than a year ago.

Hog slaughter totaled 79,500, down 28,500 compared to a year ago.

Sheep and lambs killed totaled 93,500 head, which is 3,500 less than last year.

Pesticides Require Safe Use, Disposal

AUSTIN--To many people, the best thing about spring is working in their yards and gardens but unfortunately, a necessary evil accompanies gardening -- pesticides.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White cautions gardeners to remember that pesticides are toxic poisons and are dangerous if applied or disposed of carelessly.

Commissioner White offers the following suggestions for pesticide safety:

1. Before using a pesticide, be sure that a problem exists. If in doubt, contact your local county agent, a professional entomologist or pest control expert.

2. Make certain you use the correct pesticide.

3. Use exactly the amount prescribed on the label. The recommended dosage is time-tested and certified effective.

4. Apply pesticide only in areas where needed.

5. Water used to wash and rinse the application equipment is contaminated. It should be discarded only in areas where pest control is desired.

6. Empty containers or small amounts of surplus pesticide should not be discarded in sewers, in toilet bowls or down household drains.

7. Homeowners should dispose of empty containers by wrapping them in several thick layers of newspaper, then crushing or breaking the empty containers and placing them in a garbage can for pick-up.

8. Where there is no garbage collection, the containers should be wrapped and crushed, then buried between 18 and 24 inches deep in clay or loam soil. Caution should be exercised to keep the containers at least 500 feet from livestock or water sources.

Additional information about the safe handling of pesticides is available in the pamphlet "The Safe Use and Disposal of Pesticides and Their Containers." For a free copy, write Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Lock Out Lockjaw

Cattlemen Should Be Pessimists

An optimist always believes things will be much better next month while a pessimist isn't so sure. Right now a pessimistic attitude by cattle producers could help speed up recovery in the cattle industry.

That's the contention of Dr. Ed Uvacek, a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"An optimistic feeling among cattlemen that everything is now all right in the cattle industry could be disastrous for the industry as a whole," he believes.

Uvacek fears that cattlemen who think the industry is recovering rapidly will delay calf marketing, cull only a small number of cows, and hold heifers for breeding.

"The fact is that there are still large numbers of cattle on hand, and any delay in the liquidation of breeding herds could result in a herd buildup and set the industry's recovery back a year or more.

"Only by heavy culling of cows, reduction of breeding herds, and early calf marketings will the large cattle numbers be cut down and recovery speeded up. Producers who reduce their herds now would benefit from higher salvage values for cows and increased income from the sale of calves," says Uvacek.

Producers should try to sell cows as soon as possible rather than waiting until this fall, adds the Texas A&M University System specialist. Also, they should be cautious of prices paid if purchasing new cows.

"If all cattlemen take actions to cut down herd size, the industry will probably recover by 1977," predicts Uvacek.

ICA Raps Exporter Bounties

The Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas Thursday protested supplements being paid European beef producers sending meat to the United States and called on the federal government to retaliate with offsetting duties on those imports.

The U.S. Treasury Department, which has authority to levy such protective countervailing duties has confirmed that supplemental "bounties" are being paid to exporters of frozen boneless beef by the European Economic Community.

Frozen boneless beef worth $3.6 million came into the United States from EEC countries in 1975.

Cattlemen's Association president T. A. Cunningham of Goliad said the EEC action is "disruptive of all fair trade practices and treaties" and that the American livestock industry "has a right to expect the fullest protection of countervailing duties."

"The American livestock industry has been in a state of disaster for three years," he said in a telegram to Assistant Treasury Secretary David McDonald. "We badly need every ounce of help our government can extend."

Red Spotted Grain Plants No Cause For Concern

Some Milam County grain sorghum producers in the Buckholts area will be surprised when they start checking their grain sorghum after their fields dry out.

Producers grain fields were checked April 7 and 8 in this area and much of the sorghum was found to have red spots on the leaves of the plants. The damage looks similar to a severe greenbug infestation; however, this is not the problem.

Fields were checked very thoroughly, and no evidence of aphid damage could be found. Although the heavy rains during the past week would have probably reduced the aphids, caste skins (remains of molting) could have been found in the whorls of the leaves.

Dr. C. Wendell Horne, a plant pathologist at Texas A&M University was consulted concerning the matter. He stated that he was received reports that the extreme moisture situation may have interacted with herbicides and insecticides resulting in red spotting on the leaves. Dr. Horne was sent a sample of the affected sorghum plants for analysis.

Producers should not spray for aphids in seedling grain sorghum unless you can find active colonies. If you have damage similar to the spotting described in this article, check for the greenbugs before you apply an insecticide.

Be sure to check for spider mites on your vegetables and ornamental plants. As it begins to warm up spider mite populations will increase rapidly. Check the undersides of the leaves with a magnifying glass as they are barely visible to the naked eye. They will appear to be sparsely covered with long, rigid hairs.

For controlling spider mites on house plants, Kelthane or Sulfur may be used. Chemicals used for mites on vegetables vary with the plant type. A publication containing recommended miticides is available at the County Extension Office.

County Agent's Notes

Federal Agencies Impact Disturbing To Agent

By Bill McCutchen

I attended the Beef Cattle Short Course at A&M last week and all of Thursday morning was devoted to a general session on Environmental Management and the private land owner. Sitting there and listening to those men tell about their organizations, it was hard for me to believe that I was in the good old USA and hearing what I was hearing. I had known about these agencies for quite a while but their collective impact was disturbing to me.

Speaking Thursday morning was Nathan Chandler, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D.C.; Hugh Yantis, Texas Water Quality Board; Brigadier General Kenneth McIntrye, Army Corps of Engineers; and Robert Armstrong, Texas Land Commissioner speaking on Land Use Management. There was no one there from the Air Control Board, OSHA to name a few others.

All of these agencies will have an effect on agriculture, rural America, and land ownership as we now know it in the name of "public interest" whatever this is. I tend to think that private control of lands has been, is, and will always be in the public interest but there must be a lot of people who don't think so, and they seem to have quite an impact.

All of the talks distrubed me, but none more so than General McIntyre's presentation. He said that the Corps of Engineers would carry out the letter of the law to the fullect down to regulating activities on and along the smallest streams in Texas.

EPA has already caused problems in Agricultural production with the outlawing of DDT, Dieldrin, and Mirex for fire ant control to name a few. Water Quality rulings have caused some problems and expense for a

Some of the speakers indicated that some of the actions of these agencies were in actuality land use planning.

I don't know who this "public interest" thing is. Private ownership of land means that someone is directly interested in the maintenance of that property and the private landowner has done an excellent job of erosion control, land maintenance, and increasing productivitywhich I would think is in the public interest.

I hope farmers, ranchers, and all in the rural areas will get interested in what is taking place as it definitely will concern them, their property, and their livelihood.

Over Production Seen For Poultry

A combination of overproduction, higher feed prices, and competition from red meats could result in lower profits for poultry producers in 1976, says a poultry specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Fred Thornberry points out that 1975 was a good year for both poultry producers and consumers of poultry products, mainly because broiler and turkey production was at normal levels. However, broiler and turkey production for 1976 is expected to be much higher than 1975 levels.

Slaughter of broilers for the first quarter of 1976 is projected to be 13 percent higher than the same quarter in 1975, points out Thornberry.

Rites Unite Marek-Barganier

MRS. GRADY LYNN BARGANIER

Miss Linda Marie Marek of Temple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Marek of Buckholts, and Grady Lynn Barganier of Temple, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Barganier of Troy were united in marriage during an afternoon double-ring ceremony Saturday, April 10, at St. Luke's Catholic Church. The Rev. Paul McCallum officiated.

Mrs. Bill Barganier of Temple provided the organ music, and Mr. and Mrs. David Carlson of Thrall sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father and mother, wore a gown of gentle organza. The sheer yoked bodice was framed by Venise flowers sprinkled on the capelet sleeves and high neck with ribbon laced Venise circling the skirt and flowing chapel train. Drifts of illusion fell from a brimmed hat adorned in matching lace flowers.

Mrs. Jerry Zelisko of Buckholts, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Orville Lamaak of Temple, sister of the bride, Mrs. Kenneth Marek of Buckholts, and Miss Cheryl Barganier of Troy, sister of the groom.

Also serving as bridesmaides were Mrs. Bill Henderson and Mrs. Arnold Bragewitz of Temple, Mrs. Leroy Frost and Mrs. Joe Guerrero of Belton, and Mrs. Ricky Burroughs of Electra. Miss Melanie Herrington of Eddy was a junior bridesmaid and Miss Christi Marek of Buckholts was flower girl.

Attending as bestman was Ralph Huber of San Antonio. Edward Herrington and Danny Ellis of Eddy, Allan Bunte and Craig Green of Rosebud, Billy Carberry of Houston, Mike Roasa of Academy, Glenn Smith of Belton, and Larry Goodnight of Temple were groomsmen.

Ushers were Johnny Marek of Buckholts, brother of the bride, Bill Collier of Port Lavaca, Gene York of Heidenheimer, and Calvin Creech of San Marcos. Also serving were Lester Krause, Wayne Corley and Billy Irby, all of Temple.

The reception was held immediately following the service in the parish hall.

The couple was honored with a rehearsal dinner at El Cha Cho's Friday night hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Buckholts High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Troy High School and Southwest Texas State University and attended Temple Jr. College and Mary Hardin Baylor College.

The couple will live in Temple after a short wedding trip.

Yoemen Take Early North Zone Lead

An 11th inning home run by senior Joe Smitherman vaulted the Cameron Yoemen into first place in the North zone of District 23AA by defeating Hearne 5-2. It was tied up at two each at the end of regulation play.

It couldn't have been a more thrilling homer for Smitherman who smashed the ball into orbit. Smitherman was standing at the plate with two men out, two strike and three balls at the bottom of the inning and it was all over for the Eagles when Smitherman connected.

Gerry Heitman pitched for the Yoemen, striking out 16 in the 11 innings off the mound giving up two runs and four hits. Heitman walked 7. Prior to the Hearne game Heitman had pitched 52 innings and had 100 strike outs.

In the first inning Dennis Hollas struck out followed by Donald Hanel's single. Joey Mondrik got on base on an error. Joe Smitherman was safe at first and Hanel was called out stealing third. Donald Komar was struck out.

In the bottom of the second the Yoemen took a two run lead over the Eagles. Steven Hollas walked, followed by Heitman striking out. Joe Reyes singled, followed by the second out by James Thompson. D. Hollas singled driving in both runs. Hanel was thrown out at first to retire the Yoemen.

In the third inning the Eagles brought in one run. Ricky Russ struck out for the Eagles, followed by Tim Young who drew a walk. David DeStefano followed an also got a walk. Melvin Baes struck out, followed by another walk by J. D. Wilkins, brining in Young. William Byrd struck out to retire the Eagles.

In the Yoemen's half, Mondrik singled, followed by another single bySmitherman. Komar was out on a fielders choice and Smitherman was tagged out at second. S. Hollas was led and Heitman flied out for the third out.

In the seventh inning Hearne notched the score at two a piece. Russ was tossed out at first followed by a single by Young. DeStafano walked followed by Henry who was tossed out at first. Bates saved the Eagles when he singled, driving in Young to add a breath of air to the Eagles cause.

It looked like a marathon that might take all night but the stop gate came to Cameron behind the big bat of Smitherman in the 11th giving the Yoemen an early claim to the district lead.

Yoemen Tracksters Win Hornet Relays

The 440 yard relay team crossed the finish line in 43.5 seconds for the first place medals. M. White, R. Miller, A. Miller, and J. White make up the team.

In the Mile relay the Yoe tracksters picked up another 20 points for first place. Stanley Manness 52.5, R. Miller 52.5, M. White 50.0, and J. White 50.8 had a combined time of 3:25.8 to win the event.

SPORT SPOTLIGHT

By FORREST GUESS

DISTRICT GOLF. . .

It was a near district win for the Yoe golfers. As a matter of fact it was a district win. . .then it changed to a second place finish in the district race.

The Yoe golfers turned in a 508 after the 27 hole district tournament in Caldwell. The score was 10 strokes better than Westlake who was in 2nd place.

What looked like a fine district finish turned out to be a nightmare for the team. On a tee shot a Yoe player hit out of bounds and then re-teed. He swung his club missing the ball and then on the next stroke he hit a long drive.

The player recorded a 6 on the hole--not knowing that the swing after the out of bound ball was to count. A member, not from Cameron, tested that the score was correct.

The score was then challenged and according to the district rules the player's score was not allowed to count. The score was then replaced with a 154, dropping the Yoemen to second place.

--Although it was a 2nd place,. . .it has the qualities of the famous Yoe No. 1. . .

TRACK. . .

No time is too young. . . that was evident at the 2nd running of the Rotary Relays featuring the students of Ada Henderson. Over 400 students had a chance to participate in the relays.

Max Shuemate was in charge of the event that were run last Friday. Stands at Yoe Field were full of onlookers that were amazed at the tot's abilities.

It is truly a move in the right direction for the youngsters and a great opportunity to emphasize physical education. Most schools have a regular phy-ed program initiated in the elementary age group.

Although a program would demand that new facilities be built it also is the basis of health.

The relays idea is a step in the right direction for the youngsters. The relays featured 50, 75, and 100 yard dashes, 390 yard dash an 400 yard dash. There were also division in the hi jump and broad jump, chin ups and softball throw.

Great Job Max.

BASEBALL STANDINGS. . .

After only two games the Cameron Yoemen are on top. The yoe baseballers won their opener against Rosebud-Lott 10-4 and in their second game beat Hearne 5-2.

Yoemen 2-0; Hearne 1-1; Elgin 1-0; R-Lott 1-0.

Churches Plan Easter Services

The First United Methodist Church of Cameron will serve the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper on Thursday, April 15, from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. The public is invited to share in the worship experience.

Special Easter services have been planned for the Maysfield and Cameron Methodist Churches this Sunday. The Scripture lesson will be read from Mark 16: 1-7. Special music will be presented by the Chancel choir under the direction of Mrs. Tommy Corley, and Mrs. Hilliard Thomas will provide the organ music. Rev. Stanley Vodicka, Jr. will conduct the service and will preach the sermon, "The Stone Was Rolled Away."

Everyone is urged to bring his Lenten Self-Denial folder to the services Sunday or to mail it to the church this week.

The Cantata, "Easter Song," will be presented on radio station, KMIL, on Good Friday from 1:15 p.m. to 2 p.m.

The Adult Choir of the First Baptist Church in Cameron will present the Easter musical, Alleluia! A Praise Gathering for Believers, which was written by Bill and Gloria Gaither and Ronn Huff. The musical will be presented at the First Baptist Church in Cameron on Sunday, April 18, at 6 p.m.

The public is invited to attend.

Sunrise Services will be held at the Evangelical Brethren Church in Buckholts Easter Sunday morning at 6 a.m.

Special music will be presented. Robert Bunn will be the pastor in charge.

Public is invited to attend.

The First Assembly of God, 1511 N. Houston in Cameron, will be having special services this Easter Sunday, according to the pastor, the Rev. Darryl Proffit.

A Sunday School attendance goal of 130 has been set. This will be a record Sunday School attendance for the church. The Children's Choir will be featured in the morning worship service. Tammy Parsons and Partee Roberson will be presenting special solos. The Rev. Proffit will be preaching an Easter sermon of the late Rev. I. C. Greer, "I Will Rise Again!" Following the sermon, all believers present will share in a special celebration of the Lord's Supper.

The Buckholts Brethren Church will have sunrise service at 6:30 a.m. Sunday morning. A light breakfast will follow the service.

Closet Conceals Laundry Center

When space is limited, a home laundry center can be built occupying a minimum of floor space and enclosed with bifold louvered wood doors.

On one side of the utility closet, stacked washer and dryer units make maximum use of the floor space, and shelves for linens, laundry supplies and a clothes hamper occupy the other side.

Community Easter Sunrise Services will be held at the City Park, Sunday, April 18, at 6 a.m. and will be sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Cameron.

The First Baptist Church is inviting the community to join them in this service to celebrate the ressurrection of Jesus Christ. Phil Smith, the music director, and the Youth Choir will sing. The pastor, Vernon L. Dietrich, will bring a brief message.

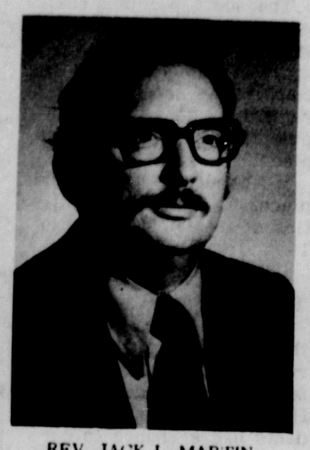
It is hoped many will participate in this commemoration.

Members of the Cameron Gospel Tabernacle choir will present "The Challenge of the Cross," an Easter offering, on Sunday night, April 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the Cameron Gospel Tabernacle across from City Park.

The choir is directed by Rev. Bob Glenn and Dr. H. R. Sharp.

The public is invited to the program.

Rev. H. M. Bowley is pastor of the Cameron church.



REV. JACK L. MARTIN

Missionary To Speak At Revival

Rev. Jack L. Martin, Southern Baptist Missionary to Thailand, will be speaking in revival services at First Baptist Church, Cameron, April 18-25. Services on Sundays will be at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. During the week, Monday through Saturday, evening services will be at 7:30 p.m. Morning services, Monday through Friday, will begin at 7 a.m. Following the morning services, coffee, milk and doughnuts will be served.

The nursery will be open during each of the evening services.

Since the first Easter, the Cross has remained the one great and enduring symbol of Christianity because it best expresses the meaning of faith. Like a precious jewel, the Cross shines with many facets of truth.

† The Cross signifies the hope of faith. It reveals God's love for us in the sacrifice of His Son. It is our assurance of His promise of salvation.

† The Cross signifies the challenge of faith. It reveals God's love for all men which we must share. It is the motivation of Christian action.

† The Cross signifies the victory of faith. It is the pledge of God's loving purpose in saving the world. It is the source of peace.

What does the Cross mean to you? On Easter — this greatest festival of our Faith, will you come to Church and discover its message?

If Estate Tax Unchanged Family Farm May Vanish

"Unless something is done to change our federal and state estate taxes, the family farm will become a vanished specie."

This call for a revision in estate tax laws came from Lane Palmer of Philadelphia, editor of Farm Journal, during the second day of Agricultural Centennial Week, April 5-9 at Texas A&M University.

The farm magazine editor pointed out that "rank discrimination against farm widows, our hopelessly outdated level of estate tax exemptions, and an Internal Revenue Service provision which forces settlement of estate taxes within nine months after death are forcing hundreds of family farms right out of existence."

Palmer also said that a proposal by Senator Edward Kennedy and others to levy a high capital gains tax at death of the surviving spouse would leave very little for children to inherit.

Calling estate taxes the "widow's tax," Palmer noted that the estate tax reform issue was actually brought to the forefront by an article in Farm Journal last September. Referring to the plight of a number of farmers' widows as a result of estate tax laws, the editor said that estate tax reform has become the No. 1 issue on Capitol Hill this spring.

Palmer called for both an increase in the $60,000 personal exemption that a widow can claim on the farm estate along with assessing farm land for its farming value rather than its development value.

He said that while the $60,000 exemption looks about right to the labor union member whose estate consists mostly of a car and home, it's simply not enough when looking at a sizeable farm with land valued at $2,000 an acre. A bill before Congress has the exemption level at $200,000.

"To help overcome state tax problems, one thing a farm wife can do is to document her contributions to capitalization of the farm so that in event of her husband's death, she has proof that she heped operate and finance the busines and was therefore a true business partner. Of course, Congress could simplify the whole thing by changing the federal law to treat joint tenancy the same as tenancy in common for estate tax purposes. That way, no matter which spouse died first, only half the estate would be taxable," said Palmer.

At the current rate of inflation, estate taxes are bound to become increasingly confiscatory, he emphasized. "If estate taxes stay on their present course and if Senator Kennedy's proposal on capital gains at death becomes law, you could see the value of a farm erode by more than half in passing it from one generation to the next."

To avoid this, the editor suggested two courses of action for farm families; (1) Form a corporation and distribute shares to the children ahead of time; (2) Form a legal partnership which will guarantee that half of the farm belongs to the wife.

Another speaker, Ed Wheeler of Washington, D.C., who is president of the National Fertilizer Institute, said that fertilizer will continue to be a key source of energy as far as food production is concerned in the years ahead.
